RATINGS

HOW MUCH CAN YOU TAKE?

Note that we’ve taken the time to distinguish between Fetish and Hardcore scenes. Stick with Fetish until you’re sure you can handle Hardcore. All of these are shot in Carcer City; it’s quickly becoming the white heat capital of the world, so expect only the highest production values (you won’t find any of that Eastern European imitation crap at Valiant).

Rating are simple, 1 to 5 stars, 5 being best. Movies with a 5-star rating have loads of brutality crammed into as little space as possible. Soul-shattering, mind-searing acts of violence one after another. 5-star videos are the ultimate Valiant products, scenes with 5-stars unlock the most bonus features.

FEATURING FRAMES FROM DIRECTOR:

LIONEL STARKWEATHER

"BORN AGAIN"

New talent JAMES EARL CASH stars in STARKWEATHER’S "BORN AGAIN", in which our hero has been brought back from the dead. Unbeknownst to the public, CASH’s execution was all a ruse, thanks to the corrupt Darkwoods Penitentiary staff. The “lethal injection” he received was nothing more than a strong sedative. In one of the first scenes, CASH wakes up from his “sleep” and finds himself in a locked room. Over the intercom, STARKWEATHER instructs CASH to put on a wireless earpiece and tells him: “Now only you can hear me and that’s the way you’re going to want it because I’m your way out of this mess...Do exactly as I say and I promise this will be over before the night is out”. In the next scene, we find CASH in the abandoned section of Carcer City, where the streets are patrolled by a gang (THE HOODS), who have been hired by Starkweather to hunt CASH down. It’s a night of kill or be killed for the delight of the Director...STARKWEATHER. This is the first scene of the STARKWEATHER collection, definitely a must have for any fan.

SCENES

“WHITE TRASH”

In STARKWEATHER’S fourth production since the unfortunate incident that ruined his career in Hollywood, rising star JAMES EARL CASH is dropped in an abandoned junkyard. Here he is faced with a new gang called the “SKINZ.” The SKINZ are more dangerous and violent than any gang we have seen CASH encounter previously. The rules are simple, he must follow STARKWEATHER’s directions, kill a few hunters along the way and more importantly... stay alive! This task is easier said than done...especially when four SKINZ are chasing him down with metal baseball bats.

“STRAPPED FOR CASH”

Starring: JAMES EARL CASH

Things get a bit more interesting for Cash in STARKWEATHER’S classic suspense scene “STRAPPED FOR CASH”. The scene is set in an abandoned zoo, where STARKWEATHER’s hired hands... the “WARDGOS”, are given the task of killing CASH. COMPLETE WITH A SHOCKING TWIST, THIS SCENE IS A MUST HAVE FOR YOUR COLLECTION...

NEW FROM STARKWEATHER FILMS

“VIEW OF INNOCENCE”

Set in a run down and long vacated Career Mall, STARKWEATHER regular, JAMES EARL CASH is faced with a notoriously dangerous and ruthless band of hunters...the “INNOCENTZ”. No real details are known about this group except that STARKWEATHER hired the gang from somewhere in the East Los Alcos area. In “View of Innocence,” STARKWEATHER directs CASH to run “errands” around the mall while at the same time fighting with the Innocentz. With great cinematography, STARKWEATHER has again outdone himself for the enjoyment of his audiences.

MIDNITE MADNESS SPECIALS:

“MOUTH OF MADNESS”

What could be more befitting for a STARKWEATHER picture than having it set in a mental asylum? In “Mouth of Madness”, veteran star JAMES EARL CASH is faced with a new breed of hunter! ... Known as the “SMILEYS”, these perverse lunatics are not only bordering on the edge of sanity...but add firearms to the mix and it's the perfect recipe for some great footage. The plot of the scene is simple... If CASH does as STARKWEATHER directs, he might just survive with his sanity and possibly his life.

A COMBINATION OF SOME GREAT ACTION FOOTAGE ALONG WITH A TOUCH OF LUNACY MAKES THIS SCENE ONE OF STARKWEATHER'S BEST.

WIRE: Used for strangling opponents, it's silent and quite deadly. This weapon can be seen throughout Starkweather's films. A simple mode of killing, the weapon is made of two handles joined by a razor sharp wire. Used by sneaking up behind a victim and pulling the wire over his head and onto his neck. The wire squeezes the life out of him. Own the signature weapon that is seen throughout Starkweather's features. - $75

GLASS SHARD: When you see your victim and you have no weapons, you have to become a bit inventive. With quick thinking and a steady hand, a PIECE OF GLASS becomes a deadly weapon that can pierce your victim's jugular. THESE are the originals that were used in many of Starkweather's features. - $34

PLASTIC BAG: To you it's an everyday household item, it holds groceries, or even your take-out dinner, but to a hardened hunter/killer, it's another weapon in his arsenal. The plastic bag has huge potential as another means of eradicating your enemy in a silent fashion. The official Starkweather bags are now here, own yours today at this incredible price. - $15/per or 3 for $30

Melee Weapons

METAL BAT: Although illegal in the world of professional baseball, legalities are ignored when it comes to Starkweather's production. As seen in "White Trash" the Skinz are armed with metal baseball bats, inflicting heavy damage to whoever crosses their path. Now available!!! - $200

WOODEN BAT: Used for more than just sports, this weapon is the favored tool of the "Hoods." Two hits to the face and he's out! This will look handsome in anyone's collection. - $150

SICKLE: Starkweather revives this 18th century weapon in his feature called "Drunk Driving". The preferred weapon of the "Innocentz", the sickle is used in much the same way as it was in the French Revolution... grotesquely. In one scene, the "hero", the now infamous James Earl Cash, eliminates one of the Innocentz, grabs his sickle and goes on a one-man rampage. Using stealth as an ally, he sneaks up to his prey and eviscerates them. A handsome collectors item for any weaponry buff...this is a must for any collector. - $300
OFFICIAL HUNTER WEAPONS

CLEAVER: The preferred weapon of the “Smileys”, this handy tool is weighted to cut through meat in a single motion. SIGNATURE MOVES OF STARKWEATHER'S HUNTERS

BRUTAL GANG BEATING
Chased into a corner by six white supremacists, then quickly and violently beaten to death with blunt weapons. Pure vitriol, venom and rancor spewing from all sides, there's no mistaking this for a peaceful crossing over. Half the fun is watching the anger on the faces of the thugs after they realize they killed their runner too quickly.

STALK, BAG, STUFF
Laying in wait, hidden by a blood-matted ghille suit and dripping dirty sweat onto a custom trang rifle built for big game, patience is his middle name. The scum runner takes off out of a shadowy spot, making a break for a hole in the fence. "THUNK" Hisuffed dart finds its mark in his thigh, and the runner stumbles and slows. Out of the underbrush creeps his fellow hunters, surrounding the animal and unsheathing their machetes. He's not quite big enough to stuff, but there's plenty of meat on him for Grandma to salt & smoke.

INSANITY 101
You've seen this one before, where the hunted just stops, falls to the floor drooling and gibbering incoherently, convinced he actually has gone to hell. It's one of our favorite ways to watch scum die.

THE BLANK CANVAS
Only one gang takes post-mortem violence to this extreme. Sure, they're frighteningly intelligent, seem to communicate without actually speaking, and hunt human waste better than almost anyone, including the Wardogs. They're in and out of the shadows, alternately mumbling insanities and screaming invectives; totally, completely out of their minds. But when they finally catch a runner, they relish the act of carving flesh, scraping bone, gouging organs and splattering blood.

TACTICS USED
by Starkweather's favorite leading man: JAMES EARL CASH

Keep an eye out for these enterprising moves highlighted in scenes from this catalog; they separate the wheat from the chaff.

TACTIC 1: In a scene made famous in "DOORWAY TO HELL", Cash presses up against the wall and punches it (X button), then creeps into the shadows waiting for the ignorant hunter to investigate. When the hunter is within reach, Cash steps out of the shadows, sneaks up from behind and performs an execution (X or □ button) for the cameras. Cash has to be careful though... if he makes any sudden noises this will alert the hunter of his presence.

TACTIC 2: In "WHITE TRASH", Cash acquires a nail gun from a freshly killed hunter. From a far distance, Cash is unable to perform shots to the head, so he aims for the body, (auto-aim hold down L1 button) with a better chance of a higher hit rate. However, if confident in his ability to hit the mark from a distance, Cash may choose to take the risk (tap R3 button while holding L1 button, the cursor will change to a dot and allow you to free aim).

TACTIC 3: In Starkweather's "FUELED BY HATE", we see Cash use metal bats and crowbars as weapons. In one of his signature moves, Cash is pressed up against a brick wall and waits while a hunter turns the corner, Cash then raises his weapon and when the time is appropriate, he pops out with a swing (X button). While rarely lethal, it was a great way to get the jump on unwary foes.

TACTIC 4: Cash made this move famous in many of Starkweather's productions and no one will ever be able to copy it successfully. Laying in wait behind an unsuspecting victim, Cash raises his arm high and holds at the ready (press and hold X or □ button), waiting to deliver the finishing blow. The nasty versions (white arrows) were nice enough, the violent ones (yellow) were quite tasty, but the gruesome (red) were what you paid top dollar for. Maybe he'll work us up a new level, if Starkweather can convince him to crank it up a notch.

TACTIC 5: Audio distractions are key to Cash's arsenal of survival skills: hitting trashcans, dumpsters, boxes, anything and everything that makes a sound to lure the hunters into a vulnerable position. In Starkweather's "WHITE TRASH", Cash is in hiding while four Skinz are on the prowl looking for a kill. Hiding behind a dumpster, Cash smacks it with a metal bat (press X or □ button) and darts off to hide in the shadows. The Skinz come to examine the noise, one scratches his head in a confused manner. Cash then quietly creeps out of the shadows, sneaks up behind a hunter and performs an execution (press X or □ button) to the delight of the Director.

TACTIC 6: It pays to be neat. Take a tip from Cash as he makes a kill and then picks up his victim (press △ button) and takes the carcass to a less visible area and dumps the body (press △ button again to drop the body). The hunters are smarter than they look... if they find a dead comrade they are going to be pissed. It might be a pain in the ass but better safe than sorry... and sorry is usually in the form of a brutal death.

TACTIC 7: Another tactic perfected by Cash is the surprise attack. In "MOUTH OF MADNESS", Cash (sawed-off in hand) would stand right in front of a door, aim (L1 button) kick the sucker open (X button), then unload onto the inhabitants of the room (X button again). There is usually more than one hunter in a room but believe me, the first one will definitely have an early night.
TACTIC 8: In Starkweather's "FUELED BY HATE", Cash must use the things around his environment to his advantage. Whether it's operating a crane (push ▲ button when next to the machine), or grabbing a tank of gas and dropping it off at a desired location (press ▼ button to pick up and again to release) - Sometimes weapons just aren't enough.

TACTIC 9: With a little bit of extra equipment Cash has been known to shout and curse at the hunters as another form of audible distraction (Add a Logitech® USB Headset for PlayStation®2 and talk into the receiver).

TACTIC 10: At times, Cash needs to grab a hunter to make sure he doesn't escape and that his blows land on target (this signature move is simply called the grapple and is easily performed by pressing the X button and the □ button at the same time). This move works when Cash is barehanded or holding a melee weapon.

TACTIC 11: Another Starkweather staple, the empty whiskey bottle is used throughout his films doubling as bait and as a weapon. Watch this classic trick in all your favorite scenes: hunters lured down dark alleyways by tossed bottles never gets old. Some adventurous runners walk right up and smash a hunter in the face with it (press X button). Usually not a lethal blow but man, what great footage.

TACTIC 12: Much like the whisky bottle, the brick (X button to throw) is used throughout Starkweather's work as both a lure and a weapon. Hunters smashed in the face with bricks never die but stumble and see stars.
